VIRAL SCORE: 0/10 — NOT YET

Title Curiosity (Jenny): 0/2
Hook Curiosity (Jenny): 0/2
Stakes Present (MrBeast): 0/2
Viewer Investment (MrBeast): 0/2
Time Bombs (Jenny): 0/1

Biggest gap: There is no reason to keep watching. No tension, no stakes, no mystery. The viewer knows everything they need to know before the video even starts.

THE VERDICT

This video has zero hooks, zero stakes, and zero curiosity — it opens with a greeting and promises something easy, which is the exact opposite of what your own data says works.

WHY JARVIS BELIEVES THIS

YOUR CREATOR VOICE

Right now there is no distinct voice here yet — just a friendly person talking to a camera. That is okay. The potential is in the topic. Pasta is universal but your angle on pasta is not yet visible.

WHAT YOUR AUDIENCE FEELS

Right now the audience feels nothing. They clicked, heard 'hey everyone welcome to my channel' and left. The bigger feeling this content could give them is the satisfaction of a secret — like they just learned something that makes them feel smarter than every person who buys expensive pasta at a restaurant.

YOUR MOST INTERESTING MOMENT

"it is really easy and delicious"

This is accidentally the most interesting moment because it hints at a gap — easy compared to what? Delicious compared to what? That comparison is where the tension lives and right now it is being thrown away in the last four words.

YOUR SUPERPOWER

You picked a topic that literally everyone has a relationship with. Pasta is not niche. That is a real advantage — the audience already exists, you just have not given them a reason to choose your version of this story.

THE CURIOSITY CODE — JENNY HOYOS FRAMEWORK

TITLE

CURRENT: My First Video PROBLEM: This title is about you, not the viewer. Nobody searches for someone's first video. It creates zero curiosity and signals zero value. FIXED: I Made Pasta Wrong My Whole Life — One Mistake Changed Everything

HOOK

CURRENT: 'Hey everyone welcome to my channel today I want to share some tips about cooking pasta at home' PROBLEM: This kills curiosity in four ways — greeting, channel mention, telling instead of showing, and removing all tension before the video begins. Your own data shows curiosity-driven hooks in the first 3 seconds retain more viewers. This hook uses all 3 seconds to do the opposite. FIXED: 'I ruined pasta for ten years without knowing it. One tiny mistake. And I am about to show you exactly what it is.'

RETENTION

MISSING: There are no time bombs anywhere in this content. The viewer is given everything upfront and has no reason to stay. ADD THIS: At 60 seconds say — 'And the weird part? Most people do this backwards. I will show you the step everyone skips at the very end.'

PAYOFF

CURRENT: The transcript ends after one sentence of setup — there is no payoff at all. PROBLEM: Even if there were an ending it would likely be a resolution like 'and that is how you make great pasta' which gets forgotten. FIX: End with a revelation — 'I served this to someone who said they hated pasta their whole life. They asked for seconds. That is when I knew the problem was never the pasta.'

THE STAKES CODE — MRBEAST FRAMEWORK

WHAT IS AT STAKE

Nothing is at stake right now. There is no risk, no consequence, no tension. Your data shows content with clear stakes and personal risk gets more shares — and this video has none of that. What could be at stake? Your reputation as someone who claims this is easy. A meal that could fail. A person you are trying to impress.

DOES THE VIEWER CARE

No. The viewer has no reason to care about the outcome because there is no outcome defined. Easy and delicious for whom? Why does it matter? What happens if they do not watch?

HOW TO RAISE THE STAKES

Add personal skin in the game immediately. Say exactly this — 'I spent three years making pasta that tasted like cardboard. I was embarrassed to cook for anyone. Then I found one thing that changed it completely and I need to show you before you waste another dinner.'

INVESTMENT MOMENTS

At the 2 minute mark say — 'Okay pause. Before I show you the next step I want you to guess what most people get wrong here. Think about it for one second. Most people say the answer is the sauce. They are completely wrong.' This pulls the viewer into the problem as a participant not just a watcher.

OVER DELIVER

The promise right now is tips about pasta. That is a weak promise. Upgrade the promise to this — 'I am going to show you the one thing that makes restaurant pasta taste different from home pasta.' Then over-deliver by showing a real side-by-side result and a genuine emotional reaction to the difference.

HOOK SCRIPT — RECORD THIS NOW

I ruined pasta for three years and had no idea. One mistake. The same mistake every time. And nobody ever told me. I am going to show you exactly what it is in the next two minutes — and once you see it you cannot unsee it.

TIME BOMBS — DROP THESE IN

1. 60 seconds — 'There is one step in this process that feels completely wrong when you do it for the first time. Most people skip it because it looks like a mistake. Do not skip it. I will show you exactly what it is in just a moment.'

2. 2 minutes — 'Okay I just did the thing that most people think ruins pasta. Here is why it actually does the opposite — and why every restaurant does it this way and never tells you.'

THE LINE THEY WILL SCREENSHOT

"I served this to someone who said they hated pasta their whole life and they asked for seconds — the problem was never the pasta."

THE VIRAL BET

EXPERIMENT: Film yourself making pasta but open with the moment something goes visually wrong or surprising — not the beginning of the recipe. Show the unexpected result first then go back and explain how you got there. TITLE TO USE: I Made Pasta Wrong For Years — Day I Found Out Changed Everything

STOP DOING THIS

CURRENT: 'Hey everyone welcome to my channel today I want to share' BETTER: Cut every word of that sentence. Your data is clear — curiosity in the first 3 seconds is your strongest pattern with 75% confidence behind it. Every greeting you open with is a second you are spending against your own evidence. Start in the middle of the story. Always.

HOW YOU WIN

In 30 days you have one video that opens with tension, not a greeting, and you watch the first 30 seconds of your own content without wanting to skip it.

A NOTE FROM JARVIS

You picked a good topic and you showed up. That matters more than most people think. Now the only job is to make the first ten seconds feel like something is already happening. You have the data. Trust it. Go again.
